On 1st February, China Southern officially opened its self-service check-in service at Taipei Taoyuan Airport, as the first mainland airline to offer this service in Taiwan.

The five self-service kiosks (or Common-use self-service Check-in counters) are set up in the Departure Hall of Terminal 2, Taipei Taoyuan Airport. Upon presentation of valid travel documents such as Mainland Travel Permit, mainland residents' pass to Taiwan, or passports, passengers can easily print their boarding passes, pick their seats and accumulate reward points. Luggage however has to be checked in by hand after printing the boarding pass.
