On Board Doctor Program Is Officially Implemented

China Airlines has teamed up with the Taiwan Medical Association to implement the “on board doctor” program. If a passenger requires medical attention, flight attendants can immediately respond by asking if a member of the “on board doctor” program is available. If that doctor is willing, he or she can offer China Airlines crew members and the ground medical support team immediate and professional assistance. The purpose of this program is to provide additional safeguards for passenger health.
